"We will cover everything from current treatment for methamphetamine addiction, to preventative education, aftercare issues and perhaps most importantly, the impact of meth abuse on our local communities".

George Creekbaum,
WVCF Substance Abuse Program Director

Carlisle, Indiana-The Wabash Valley Correctional Facility has joined forces with Indiana State University to produce a seminar and roundtable discussion about the meth crisis in Indiana. The program is scheduled for Friday, November 30th to coincide with National Methamphetamine Awareness Day. Guest speakers will include Addiction Therapist Steve Sutherland; Vigo County Sheriff Jon Marvel; Clay County Superior Court Judge James Blaine Akers; Addictionologist Dr. Randy Stevens and more!

Wabash Valley Correctional Facility Substance Abuse Program Director George Creekbaum said a wide range of topics will be discussed. "We will cover everything from current treatment for methamphetamine addiction, to preventative education, aftercare issues and perhaps most importantly, the impact of meth abuse on our local communities".

The seminar will take place in the Cunningham Memorial Library on the ISU campus, with registration starting at 8:00 a.m. The program is open to the public and anyone involved in the battle against meth in Indiana.
